Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Art Unit: 2652

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by ALBERT et al (4,219,853).

Note figure 2. ALBERT et al shows a slider with read (16) and inductive write (18) heads mounted on a slider(10) including a overlying protective film (46) having a thickness of 20-50 microns (see column 3 lines 62-65 – note “layer 32” is clearly a “typo” and should read “layer 46” as shown in figure 2).

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over ALBERT et al (4,219,853).

ALBERT et al shows a slider with R/W heads and protective layer substantially as claimed.

Art Unit: 2652

ALBERT et al differs in not : (A) utilizing an MR type read head (re claim 3), (B) show a "supporting device" (reclaim 5), or (C) specify the medium involved (re claim 6).

Concerning (A), it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize an MR read head in the R/W structure of ALBERT et al. The motivation is as follows: MR read heads are well known and commonly used in place of inductive read heads to provide increased info density.

Concerning (B), it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide some "supporting device" for the slider of ALBERT et al. The motivation is as follows: the discussion of the prior art in ALBERT et al (see column 1 lines 22 –27) clearly indicates that the slider is to be used in the well known magnetic disk drive environment. This includes some "supporting device" for the slider.

Concerning (C), it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to utilize the slider of ALBERT et al in a flexible magnetic disk drive. The motivation is as follows: the discussion of the prior art in ALBERT et al (see column 1 lines 22 –27) clearly indicates that the slider is to be used in the well known magnetic disk drive environment. This includes flexible type disk drives.

5. Claim 2 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
